

Impact sponsorship Program Uganda

(Update)

From Sponsors to Parents

Sylvia and Madrine are sisters from a family of eight. They joined impact sponsorship program in their primary level when their father was laid off his work and couldn't earn money to care for his family and also educate his children. The program came in to help in educating two of these girls so that they could achieve their life careers.

They are so grateful to God for the support they have received through the impact sponsorship scheme. They say that, "We feel that the sponsors are not only sponsors but also our parents."

At the moment Madrine is doing a course in education doing English and literature as her teaching subjects while Sylvia is doing a course in business administration and also do part time secretarial work at Blessed Sacrament secondary school.

Grateful for my second chance

Nabulya Proscovia is aged 19 years and from a family of seven children. She dropped out of school in senior two due to pregnancy and sat at home to take care for her baby for one and half years.

She became so hopeless and shameful in her community however she wanted to pursue a course in tailoring. She is so grateful to God through impact sponsorship that she has been able to realize her dream. In her own words she said that she is hopeful and after finishing her course this year she wants to start up a personal business in tailoring so that she can be able to take care of her son.

Orphans in school

Four of these are orphans from one family and one of them is also an orphan from another family in the same area.

They are grateful that they are in school.

They are in Blessed Sacrament primary school.

Future full of hope

“We are doing our best so that we can do the courses we desire to do.”
